

Timelines, Reporting, and Recordkeeping

Overview

This section provides information on various reporting and record keeping requirements.

For USDA compliance all records must be retained for the current year and the three previous years (Provision program record retention rules differ from this standard). These records must be readily accessible and available for audit purposes or review by the USDA or the State agency. If a program is being audited or investigated, the records must be retained for the period in question until the audit or investigation is closed, plus three years.

Check with the business office to determine if any records need to be kept for longer than the USDA requires. If not, when closing out the current fiscal year, discard the oldest school year records, unless the district is in process of an audit. Example: when closing out 2014-2015 and starting 2015-2016, discard the records from 2011-2012, but save 2012-2013, 2013-2014, and 2014-2015. Store records by fiscal year (July 1 through June 30).

For sponsors who are participating in Provision breakfast and/or lunch, all base year documentation (free and reduced meal applications, Direct Certification documents, Verification documents, meal count records, reimbursement claims, press release, etc.) and extension data must be kept for as long as the sponsor operates under the provision meal program plus three (3) additional years.*

Terminology

Benefit Issuance List - A document (can be electronic or handwritten) that lists each student enrolled in the school and their school meal benefits status- free, reduced, or paid. This document must be kept confidential. Accurate maintenance of this document is a requirement of the National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program.

Community Eligibility Provision – A method of approving students for free meal benefits based on at least 40 percent of students in a school or school district qualifying for free meals through direct certification. All students receive meals free but nonfederal funds pay the difference in federal assistance received.

Direct Certification (DC) – A method in which a child is eligible for free meals based on documentation obtained directly from the appropriate State or local agency authorized to certify that the child is a member of a household receiving assistance under SNAP, FDPIR or TAFI programs, and/or is a Foster, Homeless, Migrant, Head Start, or Runaway child.

Reimbursement claim – A meal, snack, or milk that was served per USDA regulations and submitted for federal reimbursement.

Provision – An alternative method of counting meals for reimbursement claims.

Why are Timelines, Reporting, and Recordkeeping Important?

There are specific timelines that must be adhered to in order to ensure deadlines are met and sponsors remain compliant with all State agency and USDA regulations. Many of these timelines pertain to daily, weekly, monthly, and annual reports that are necessary requirements for running a successful and compliant meal service program. Retained records provide USDA, the State agency, or auditors proof of served reimbursable meals and compliance with all rules and regulations. All paperwork may be requested in an investigation or review and failure to have this important documentation may result in meals being disallowed.
